

Lyme Literate Practitioners at Health Space

At Health Space in Sydney there are practitioners at the 6 clinics that are experienced in treating Lyme Disease from all aspects - Physically, biochemically, emotionally and spiritually. The practitioners are happy to work with your current GP or have a network of other practitioners they can also refer you to if you need extra treatment or testing to be done. They are experts in treating Lyme Disease using natural treatments and remedies but also understand the need for alternate medicine to work hand in hand with mainstream medicine including antibiotic therapy. They are extensively trained in co-management of cases where people are on high dose antibiotics and can also help off set some of the side effects from the medications with treatment as well as love and support. Below is a list of the practitioners available to help you with Lyme Disease specific treatments.
